Burleson Puts Responsibility at Congress' Door for Granting Bonus.

A deficit of $17,270,482, including losses by fire and burglary-the second largest in the history of the postal service-was reported to the President today by Postmaster General Burleson in his annual report, in which expenditures of the Post Office Department are placed at $454,322,-609 and revenues at $437.150,212.

The Postmaster General charges Congress with direct responsibility for the deficit, explaining that the expenditures included approximately $33,202,600 paid as a war bonus to postal employes, and states that but for this there would have been a surplus of $18,427,917. Mr. Burleson says he declined to approve the bonus action of the legislative department, adding that he had offered suggestions of another plan for compensa-ting the employes, which would have served the purpose without at the same time giving a blanket increase in pay to "thousands who were al ready amply compensated."

Arraigns Employes' Unions. "For reasons that can be readily understood," he continues, "the legis-lative department rejected these suggestions made by the Postmaster Gen eral and hence is directly responsible for the deficit which inevitably fol-lowed the indefensible action. "The Postmaster General feels con-strained to point out that if a prompt halt is not called and such a policy is persisted in there will be a deficiency for the next fiscal year of approxi-mately $36,000,000 and the postal es-tablishment will cease to be seifsupporting, as it should be, and will den upon the general Treasury."

Attention is again directed by the Postmaster General to the growth of organization among the postal employes, and he urges that steps be taken to "curb the malicious and permicious influence" of these organizations upon the postal personnel. He says they have operated to "interfere to a considerable extent with the efficient conduct" of the service, adding that "much of the so-called 'demoralized postal service' and 'dissatisfaction' exists only in the minds and impartation of any nationality already results of the under the fine to the United States immigration of 738,000 from the same sources in the five years 1910-14. Warns of Strike Menace.

"The avowed purpose of these or-ganizations," continues Mr. Burleson, "is not solely to advance the social and economic welfare of their members, but to exercise a coercive in-fluence upon the department to com-pel submission to their demands."

The postal service head declares the The postal service head declares the use of the strike against the government by an "outside" organization is a menace to the welfare of the republic, as it not only results in a divided allegiance, but engenders dissatisfaction, discontent and unrest and in the lowering of efficiency, "Postal employes have become held "Postal employes have become bold because of this affiliation and have within recent years threatened to strike," Mr. Burleson adds. "In one case they actually did so by tendering their resignations and leaving in a body. In this case they were promptly indicted and prosecuted in the federal courts."

"While strikes in the postal service may be averted for the time being, yet they will come, and the public will then be brought face to face with a most serious situation—one which will be a menace to our government."

DEBURAU

Every, happiness which the theater holds for those who love it is to be found in "Deburau." It has surving drama, delicious humor, exquisite music, poetical beauties, charm, and innumerable surprises.

"Deburau" is a comedy from the French of Sacha Guitry, adapted by Granville Barker. The interpretation of the pluy depends on 125 ESPECIALLY SELECTED ACTIOES.

Scenically the prologue and four acts will be a continuation of elaborate and atmospheric pictures on a scale equaled by nothing Mr. Helasso has done in years.

The Washington appearance of Mr. Atwill immediately precedes his engagement in "Deburau" at the Belasco Theater, New York.

TONIGHT AT 8:20 PRECISELY Owing to the elaborate nature of the production it is imperative that the curtain rise at 8:20.
